The Immaculate Conception

Twenty-Eighth Sunday of the Year 12th October 2014

Dear friends,

for the next few weeks we have been asked to pray for the Synod of Bishops from around the world meeting in Rome, at the request of Pope Francis, to discuss issues of Catholic family life. One of the topics will be those members of the Church who, for whatever reason, have divorced and remarried. Should they be readmitted to receiving Holy Communion? As canon law now stands the answer is no although they should be encouraged at all times to approach the altar and receive a blessing. However, the circumstances surrounding divorce and remarriage differs greatly so is it right that one law should apply to all without exception? In his ministry to date Pope Francis has strongly emphasised the mercy and compassion of God in all his pastoral outreach. Can there be any hope that present legislation might be modified and if so, how and when? Conscience plays an important part in all pastoral situations and priests like myself have a very delicate role to play in counselling those who seek advice in such situations. Yes we must indeed pray that the Holy Spirit may guide the bishops in their deliberations and guide us all as we seek to love and serve God in the often complicated situations of our lives. To follow Christ is to walk the way of the cross but it is also to experience a love that is unconditional and overwhelming.

God bless you always
Fr James
