The Immaculate Conception

Twenty-fifth Sunday of the Year

21st September 2014

Dear friends,

to reflect upon the Scriptures, particularly the gospels, is to open one's self to a mind set quite at odds with a secular way of thinking. This should not surprise us since God says through the prophet Isaiah "my ways are not your ways and my thoughts are not your thoughts": Is 55.9. This is clearly demonstrated in today's parable of labourers working in the vineyard. All end up by receiving exactly the same wage no matter how many or how few hours they have worked. God's concept of a minimum wage is very different from that of government or trade unions. The whole point of the parable is to bring home to us the generosity of God in our regard. We do not earn or merit God's favour. What he gives to us is given out of the abundance of his love - all is grace. Ours is not to reason why because if we do so we will inevitably come to a worldly conclusion. Ours is simply to receive with thanksgiving what the Lord bestows on us through his amazing grace.

We welcome this weekend some Palestinian Christians promoting "Bethlehem Art" hand carved statues made by some of the Christian families still living in the Holy Land. Their situation is very precarious, and increasingly so given the turbulence in the Middle East. The sale of these products contributes to their livelihood and I warmly commend them to your generosity.

God bless you all
