The Immaculate Conception

Sixteenth Sunday of the Year

20th July 2014

Dear friends,

We believe God to be both merciful and just. We all hope for his mercy but are not so keen to be called to account by his justice. One of the most common failures of human nature is the tendency to pass judgement upon others, very often on the flimsiest of reasons. Though blind to our own failings we readily spot those of others and judge them accordingly. Today's gospel parable about wheat and weeds growing together in the one field is all about judging too quickly. The only one to be in possession of all the facts is God himself and to him alone judgement belongs. In the Creed we profess that he will judge the living and the dead and it is his judgement on us as individuals that should concern us, not his judgement of others. A key word in the preaching of Jesus is the imperative: repent. A frequent examination of conscience should be part of our personal prayer. We are called upon to reflect seriously on our lives and on our sense of values. If we do his honestly we will often realise that there is a great deal of room for improvement. When we repent we can face God's judgement in the sure hope of his mercy

God bless you always

- Mass on Saturday 9th & Sunday 10th August and maybe also on Saturday 16th and Sunday 17th August will be in the CHURCH HALL.
- Weekday Mass for two weeks from 4th August will be in the Presbytery and will NOT be preceded by Morning Prayer.
- The Blessed Sacrament, during the period of decoration, will be reserved in Fr James' Chapel in the presbytery.
- Adoration after morning Mass is discontinued as normal during August.
- Confessions will be heard in the Presbytery, upon request, during this period.

A little nearer to the time, we will need to seek the help of parishioners in moving the Mass Books and Hymn books into the Church Hall for Mass and back to the Church after the decoration.
