The Immaculate Conception

Twentieth Sunday of the Year

17th August 2014

Dear friends,

In today's gospel we find our Lord well outside his usual places of ministry. He is not in Galilee nor in Judea but the region of Tyre and Sidon. The woman who seeks his help for a sick child is a pagan and at first Jesus seems to have distanced himself from her. But his apparent reluctance does not deter her and Jesus recognises her as a woman of great faith. It is helpful for us to realise that faith transcends denominational labels and at a personal level is known only to God. At times our own faith is sorely tested when our prayers seem to go unanswered. Perseverance is of the utmost importance: we must continue to seek and never stop knocking on the door.

In today's Old Testament reading we hear the words "my house will be a house of prayer for all peoples." The refurbishment of our church is now all but complete and on Monday 18th August normal worship will be resumed. We should never take for granted the great gift we have in freedom of worship and easy access to our house of prayer. Our hearts go out to the Christians and other persecuted minorities of Iraq at this time. Their plight should be a major concern of the international community.

God bless you always
Father James

UPDATE ON THE RE-DECORATION OF THE CHURCH:

The re-decoration is NOW COMPLETED. The church has had a builders' clean and the sanctuary carpet has also been cleaned. At the time of preparing this notice, we are awaiting the return of the curtain in front of which the crucifix is displayed—this is promised for Friday 15th August.

After the 11 am Mass this Sunday (17th August), we will be returning all the Mass Books, Hymn Books and all the sacred vessels and books, Pascal Candle, vestments etc to the church. We shall also return all the chairs and tables in the Hall to their storage place on the stage. The help of everyone to complete this task will be much appreciated.

Daily 9 am Mass will now return to the church from Monday 18th August, preceded by Morning Prayer at 8.45 am

As we saw when moving from the church to the Church Hall, 'many hands make light work'. It was a magnificent response — thank you! It would be wonderful to get the same level of help for the return journeys. It should only take a few minutes if everyone helps.....please!
